

Creating Value

Respect is inseparable from success.

We know this. We respect and cherish the values that have made Nigeria what it is – the culture, the customs, the laws, the authorities, the people and the environment. Our respect for nature and the environment is our character and the reason for our being, which alludes to our corporate culture.

At Nigeria LNG, respect is central to our core values and drives all interactions with our esteemed stakeholders. The results are obvious.

NLNG respects the law of the land and acts in full compliance with laws and regulations.
